

Learn more about The Resilience through Empowerment and advocacy for children's " REACH" project in Uganda nakivale refugees settlement.

Global Alliance for peace and solidarity for Africa is implementing the"#Resilience_Through_Empowerment_and_Advocacy_for_Children" "#REACH" project to ensure that children and their families can access age- and gender-appropriate child protection services that are community-led and aligned with government structures, including the provision of alternative care for unaccompanied and separated children, sustainable access to services and a reduction in violence.

There have been reports that most children are abused and there is no response to this abuse. There is a high dropout rate here. In Nakivale Refugee Camp, children are trafficked and child labour is practiced, which violates their rights.
